Beholding the wonders of God portrayed in the beauty of nature, we at Madonna look eagerly toward the beauties which will be ours when we achieve our eternal goal. Just as God in His goodness has planted hope in all four phases of nature, so too He has filled our school year with expectation. Against the backdrop of nature we see reflected the strong determination of Madonna's students to learn, and the noble vocation of our faculty to teach. It is in gratitude to God for His gift of natural wonders in the world around us that we try to capture the memorable moments of our school year in this 1962 Madonna.

God's World

Together we live
Another year at Madonna,
With joy
And some regrets,
With fond memories
And eager expectations.
Each season portrays
A beauty all its own;
And each teaches us
A special lesson
Here . . .
In Our Lady's school,
A lesson of gratitude to God
For the beauty
And harmony
Of this world,
A lesson to guide us
From carefree days of youth
To whatever the future holds.
It is unique
And singular to each girl,
Simple and yet beautiful.

Dedicated to Youth

The Reverend William H. Juergens, the Reverend Alexander T. Pocetto, the Reverend John Birkenheuer, and the Reverend Edward S. Chryzanowski are among the zealous Oblates of St. Francis de Sales who minister to the spiritual needs of Madonna girls.

Our Faculty

Reverend Mother M. Vincentia

Back: Mr. Stefan Schmidt, Mrs. Anita DiFlorio, Mrs. Carrie Mitchell, Sister M. John Francis, Sister M. Consolata, Sister Joseph Marie, Sister M. Loyola. Front: Miss Patricia Bovanizer, Sister M. Innocentia (vice principal), Sister M. Marcelline.

Center: Sister M. Eloise, principal. Left: Sister M. Rosella, Sister M. David, Mrs. Helen Meyer, Mrs. Beverleigh O'Neill, Mrs. Frances Volpe. Right: Sister M. Jane, Sister M. Teresa, Sister M. Campion, Sister Kathleen Marie.

A Familiar Face. The Reverend John P. Duggan, celebrant of the Opening Mass, receives a welcome from J. Gilligan, R. Olejarz, J. Johnson, and M. Shea.

A Proud Moment. M. Neville accepts her Mercy pin from the Reverend Francis A. Krupa.

Have Brains, Will Study. S. Mestre, P. Papierz, V. Gadawski, C. Gallina, and S. Belbas assure Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. DiFlorio, Mrs. Mitchell, and Mr. Schmidt that they're ready to work.

Autumn

Softly, gently, Autumn came.
She wielded her magic brushes
That painted forests
And fields.
Her balmy winds
Caressed the towering trees,
Scooped up
The rich redness,
The gleaming gold
Of their leaves
And tossed them liltingly
In the cool, bracing air.
This is the way
Autumn visited us at Madonna;
And we welcomed her
With all her beauty
And fragrance
And brilliance —
A masterpiece of God
With her abundant harvest . . .
We, too, have a harvest
Of knowledge to reap.

Nothing is lost on him who sees
With an eye that reading gave;
For him there is a story in every breeze
And a picture in every wave.

— Thomas Moore

Winter

Majestic,
Impressively radiant,
Inspiring — snow falling
From heaven to Madonna.
Autumn had departed;
But she left to us here
In Our Lady's school
Such an exquisite tribute to beauty,
Such a unique incentive to purity —
Winter . . .
A season of crystal trees,
Ice-laden waters,
And sculptured snowflakes
Drifting . . .
Drifting . . .
To the frozen ground.
We gaze in wonder
At the power, the goodness
Of God
Who bestows
Upon His creatures
Such rare beauty.

His body gleams amid eternal snows;
His tears fall from the skies.

CHEMICAL CHRISTMAS TREE. A. Valdes adds the final touches to the chemistry class Christmas project as S. Morgat and C. McCarthy assist.

K. Dougherty, E. Kozdranski, K. Mazur, and L. Hellman show us just four of the many beautiful biology projects prepared this year.

Mrs. Einstein, the Red Cross nurse who teaches us Home Nursing, tells M. A. Mroziak that S. Kapelka's temperature isn't so high.

Illustrated Christmas poems hold the interest of these English III students: R. Riordan, D. Piadquadio, J. Erickson, M. Anderson, and B. Foran.

Christmas Play

"In the liturgical year it is Christ Himself Who persists in His Church . . . in order to place human souls in contact with His mysteries and make them live again through Him."

POPE PIUS XII

Seniors, with C. Schoepflin as narrator, carry the theme of the pageant.

Members of the senior class portray the joyful coming, to help us recapture the spirit of Bethlehem.

With the Christmas Mass, the zenith of the Christmas season is reached. The Mass is a new Bethlehem, bringing Christ each day into the hearts of those who love Him. O Infant Savior, make of our hearts a crib!

C. Malinverni is a happy little girl because Santa Claus is giving her the Business Club typing award.

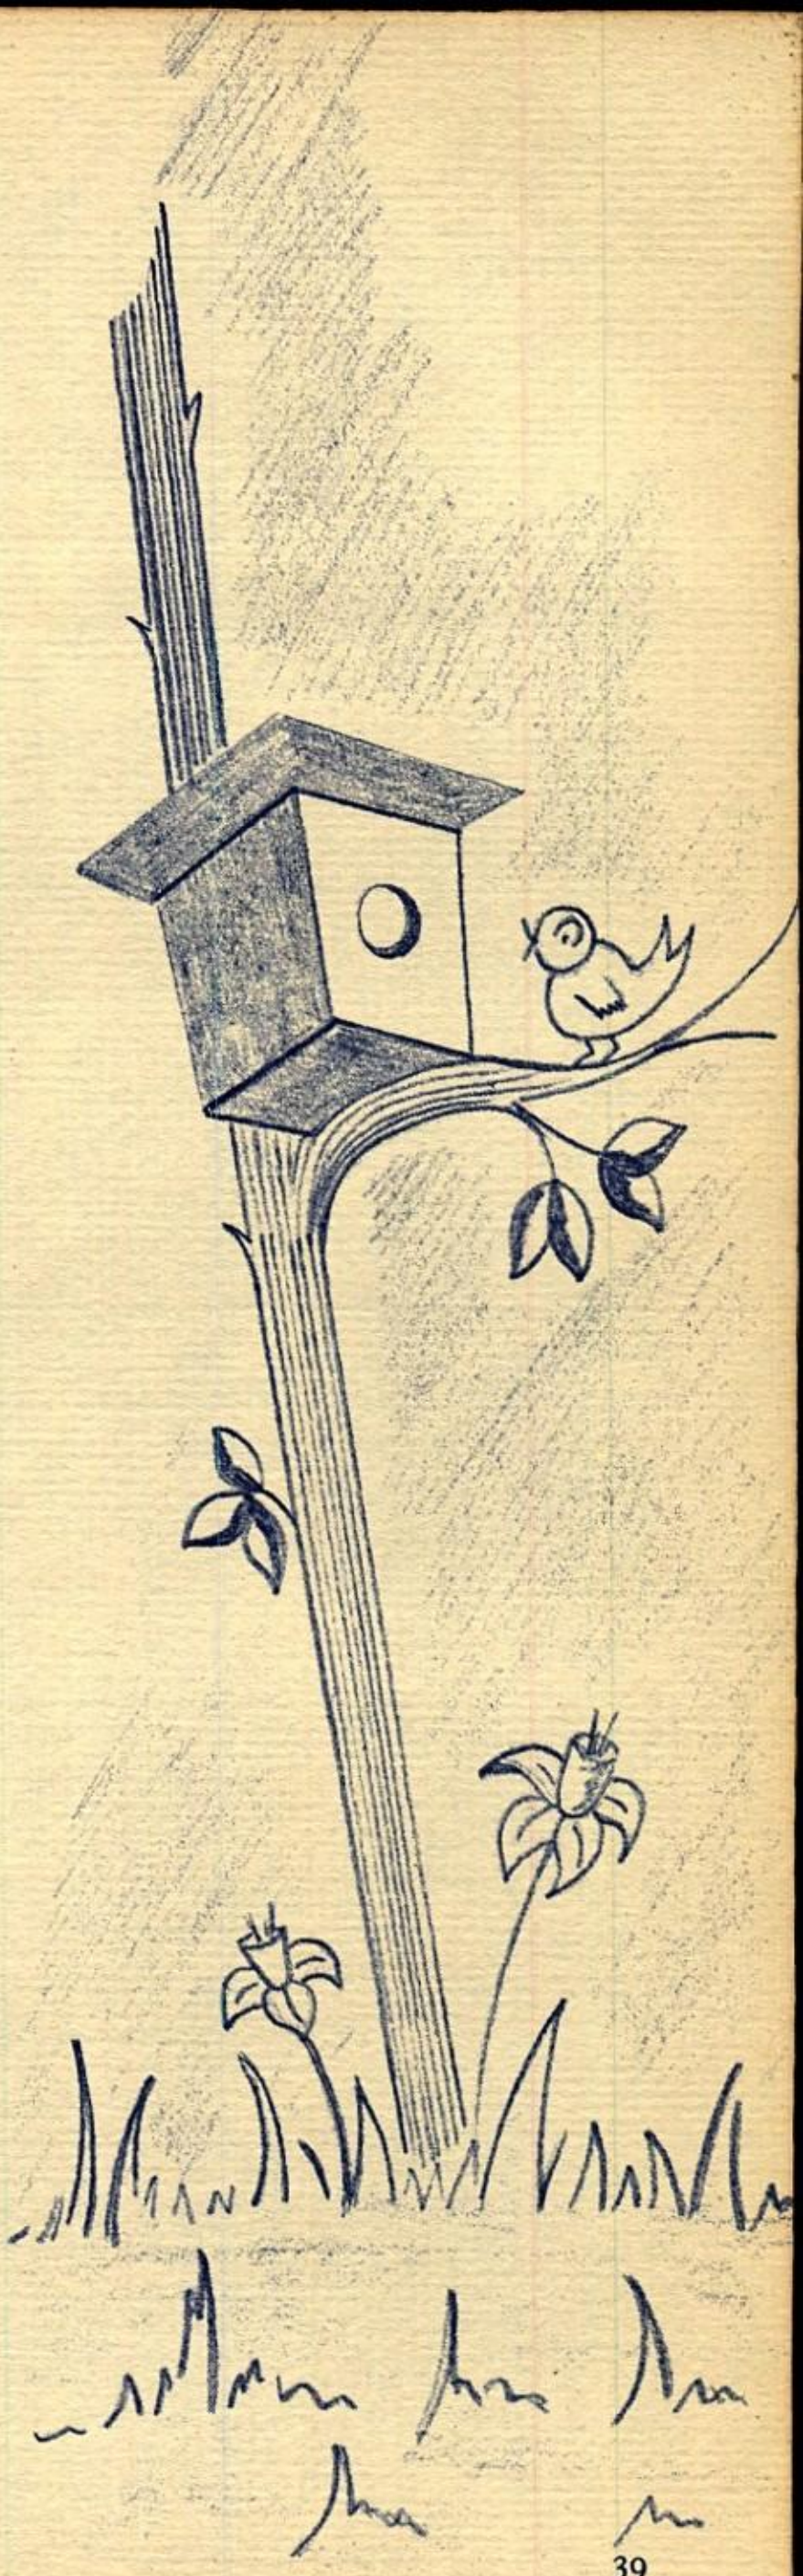
C. Certo, M. Conan, and P. Killian do the "Jingle Bell Rock" for us.

Junior-Senior Capers

S. Morgat and K. Wilson take time from dancing to show their rings to Sister M. Eloise and Sister M. Innocentia.

THE CLIMAX OF A WONDERFUL EVENING—is the crowning of the queen, M. Cuddahee, by C. Olszewski and M. Schimscheiner.

Our proudest possession!



Spring

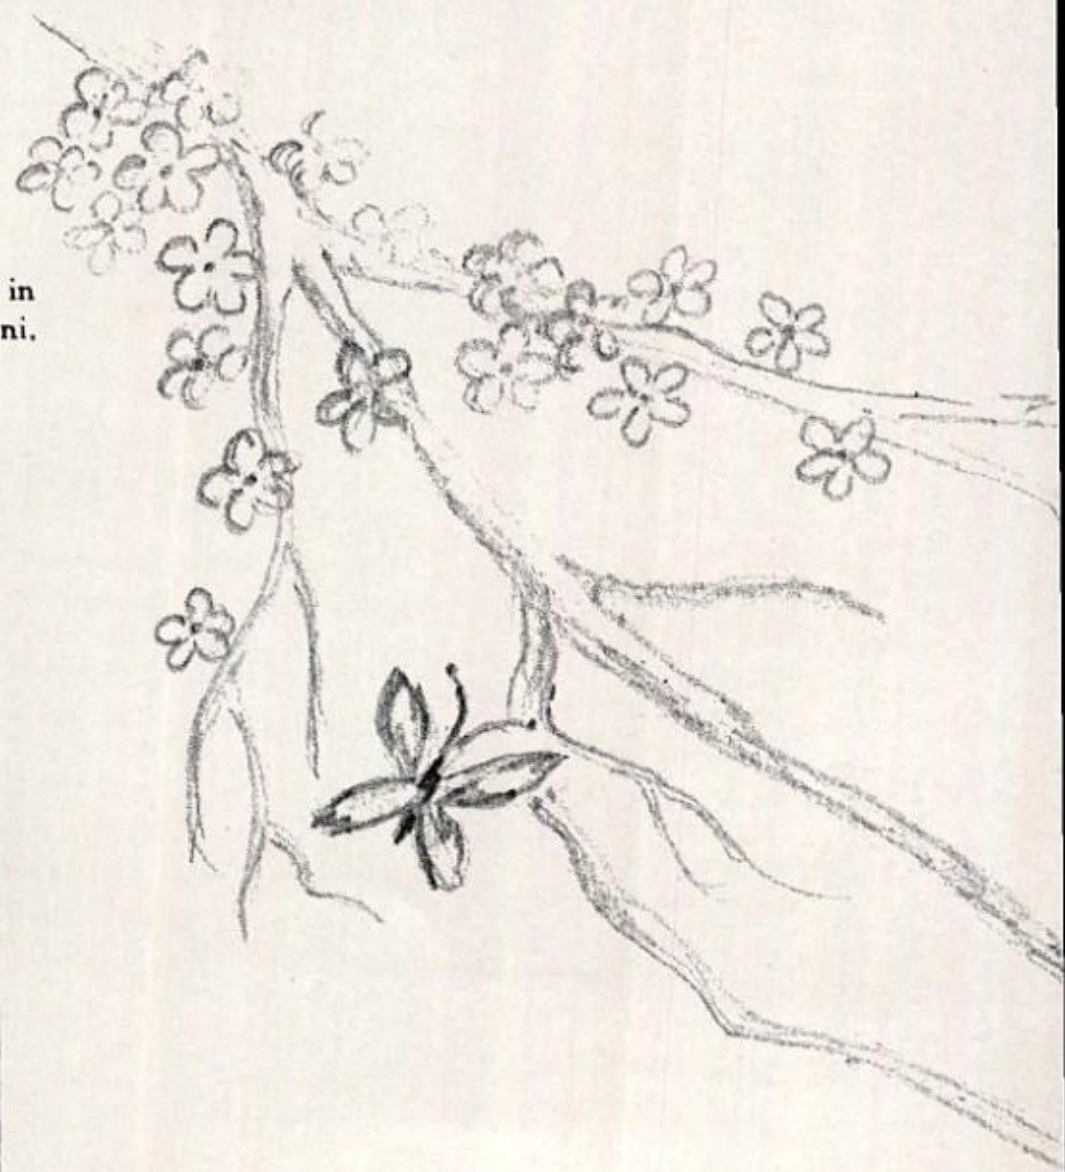
And then,
With a song of hope
And promise,
We forgot the dismal moan
Of Winter's chilling winds.
We glimpsed the marvel
Of delicate blossoms,
Of verdant meadows,
Of lulling zephyrs,
Of meadowlarks
Trilling sweetly
Of whispering soft
April showers.
The song was Spring;
The melody so enchanting
That our hearts were gay,
Our dreams unclouded,
Our memories enriched
And yet free . . .
Free to cherish
The golden hours of life
That were to come.

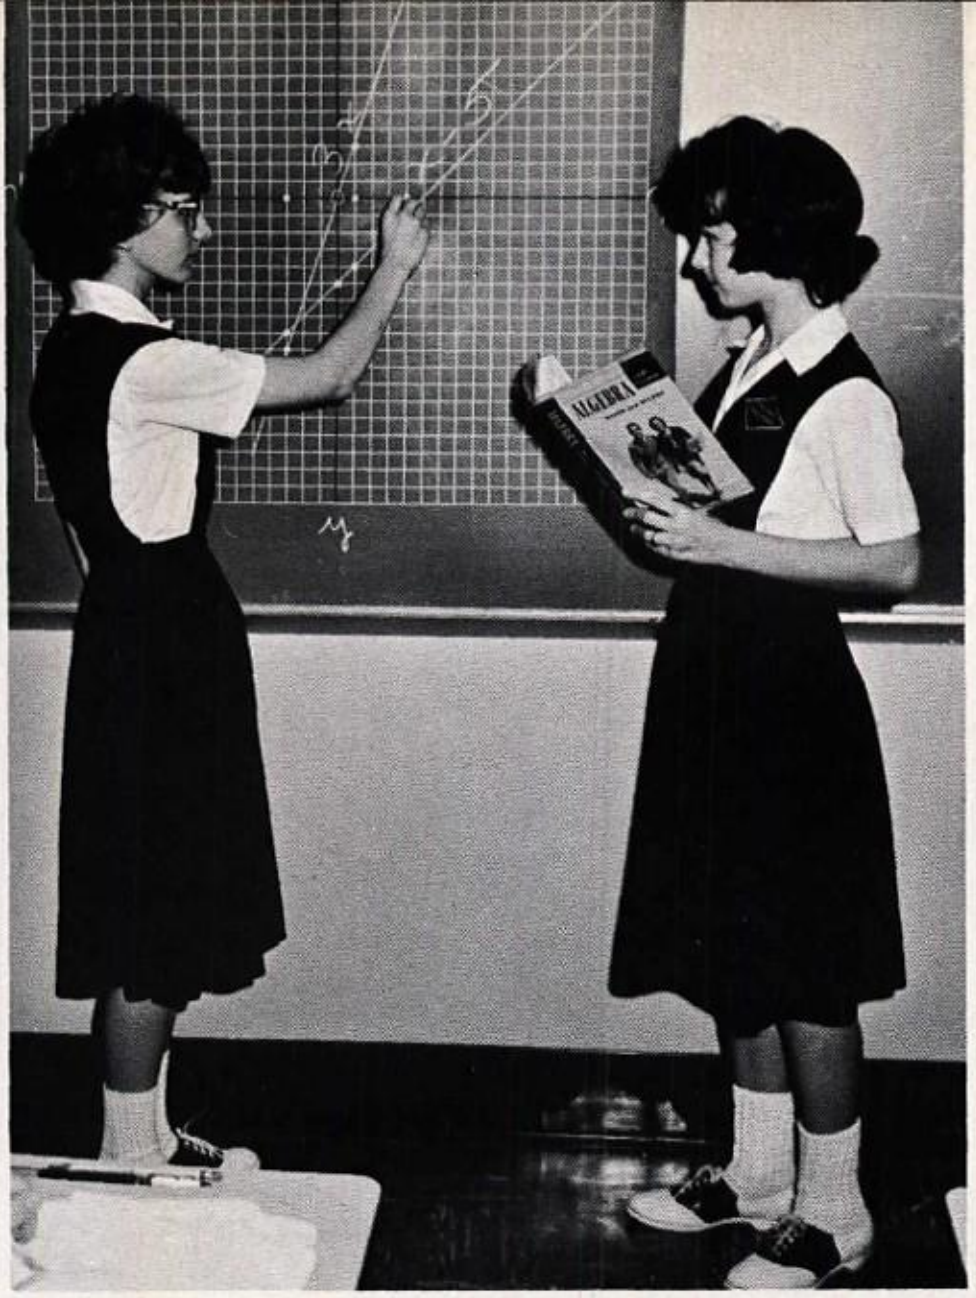
Make our hope yours and tell all that we are in the springtime of history. May God grant that this spring will be one of the most beautiful that mankind has ever lived.

—Pope Pius XII

MATH CAN BE FUN. Hanging Math 10 booklets is the pleasant task of S. Canavan, A. Zeifang, B. Schreiber, and M. Milan.

ALL IN A BUSINESS DAY. The statement must balance in business arithmetic, conclude C. Serianni, C. Malinverni, and J. Henderson.





THAT ELUSIVE X. Arithmetic was never like this agree our two elementary algebra students who are doing a few extra graphs—C. Lukaszonas, and M. Nagelhout.

rain the just.
Isaiah 45, 8

Under the watchful eye of P. Papierz and A. Splendore, T. Nemetz gives pointers for sharp pictures.

Assistant editor J. Pastore and Marie Mazzei, editor, look happy about the Maryenne's first place award at High School Press Day.

Maryenne

It is the purpose of the Maryenne to serve Madonna by acquainting all students with the ideals, purposes and activities which are vital to the life of our school. Staff membership requires promptness, dependability, originality and perseverance.

Three of M. Mazzei's journalism pupils are B. Sawicki, R. Proe, and L. Connor.

K. Rountree, A. Braas, and B. Dobbs spend many hours typing copy for the next issue.

Typists: J. Garlitz, L. Godzisz, M. Cuddahee, A. Gornicki, R. Indovino, J. Bouvy, N. Sobala. Editorial Staff: C. Ferguson, P. Papierz, V. Dominick, P. Skimin, L. Galdys, S. Broderick.

Editors R. Olejarz and P. Bacon.

Madonna

Our yearbook gives in detail the story of the school year which has just past. It records happy times and precious friendships; it marks experiences in learning and in the sometimes painful process of acquiring maturity. It is a privilege to be associated with its publication.

Tops in the Madonna patron drive: C. Venuto, M. Szydlowski, R. Indovino, J. Ottaviani, C. Gallina, M. DeRosa.

Madonna's artists include: J. Bergeron, S. Barteck, C. Gugino, S. Onevelo.

LET'S GO; LET'S REALLY GO! Cheerleaders S. D'Ambrosio, R. Proe, A. O'Laughlin, M. Talbot, K. Perlman, P. Nicoletti, N. Oggiono, L. Connor, N. O'Laughlin, and P. Colosi add plenty of pep to our basketball games.

Sports

UP AND IN! M. A. Schimscheiner lands it just right as St. Mary's School for the Deaf follows in pursuit.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT! Members of the gym class find there is just one way to learn: B. Hoover, E. Cleary, G. Fields, B. Dobbs, A. Blackman, and C. Abel.

Dear Pat,

It's yearbook time again & we're once again best friends - let's keep it up - Good Luck with the boys (you need it).

(Have a wonderful Summer)

Summer

Gleaming shafts of golden sunlight
Stream down upon Madonna.
The crisp, refreshing scent
Of summertime
Surrounds our school
And fills her halls
With brightness
And cheer.
In this delightful season
We find fulfillment;
What Winter has destroyed,
What Spring has repaired
Is once again clean and fresh
And beautiful.
So, too, life is a cycle of seasons,
Bitter coldness, warmth, sorrow, joy.
We have learned this in our years
Here at Madonna,
And this knowledge has made us stronger
And more able to live our lives
As Christians
And true children of God.

—Victoria Dominick

By imitating the example of the Virgin Mary, generations of Catholic women have been able progressively to make her example permeate the life of the family and of society. It is your task to continue this work.

AMERICANS ALL. Carol Gugino, Sharon Onevelo, Joanne Bergeron, and Marie Mazzei let us view some of the work which they submitted to the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

WE HASTE TO CROWN THEE NOW. Janet Gilligan, Sodality prefect, offers Mary our token of love.

Our Lady's Sodality . . .

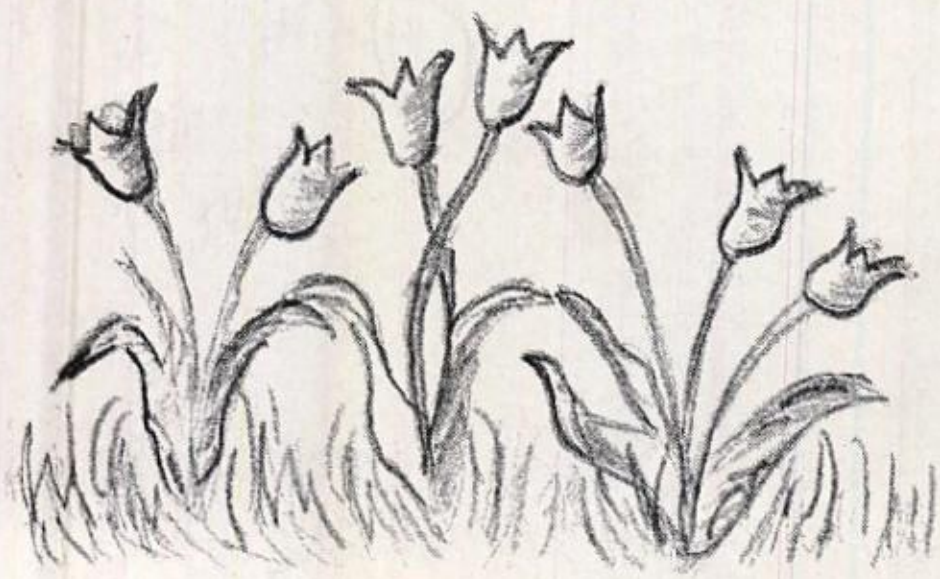
A Catholic high school would not be complete without an organization devoted to Our Blessed Mother. However, the Sodality of Our Lady is more than an organization—it is a way of life. By following this way, Sodalists try to reach Jesus through Mary.

HAIL TO THE QUEEN. Rain drives us indoors, but we still honor Mary on the last day of May.

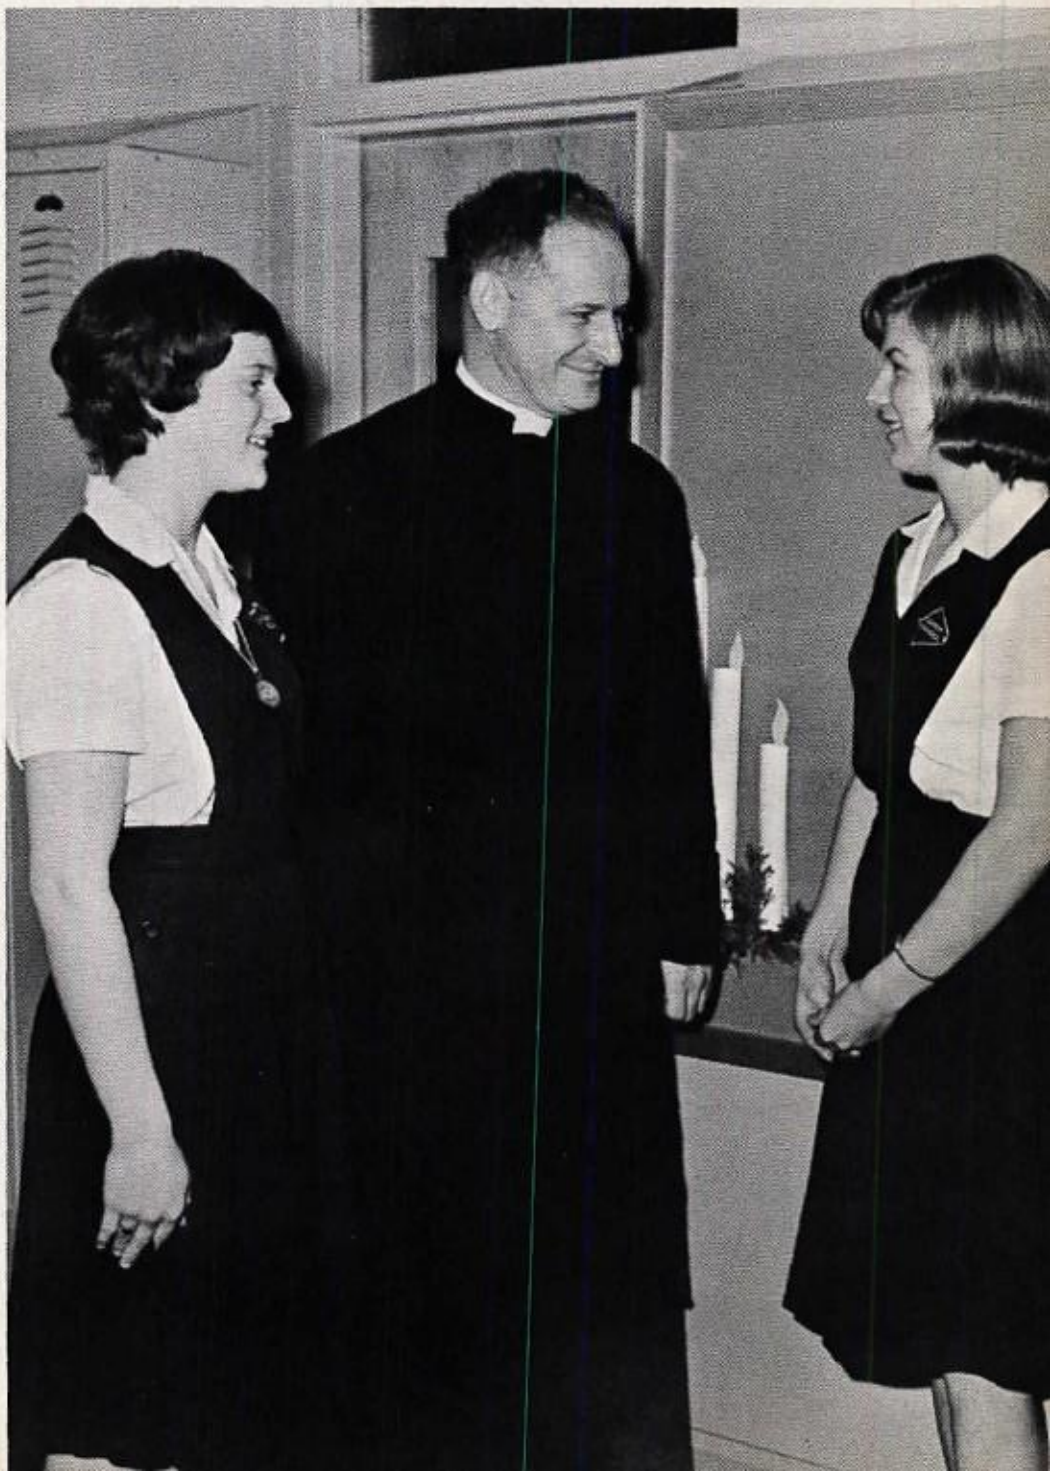
MARY-LIKE. Commentator J. Hoffman agrees with us that our models are both fashion-wise and modest: P. Fitzgibbons, J. Wisch. E. Turcotte, N. O'Laughlin, L. Dent, H. Narkiewicz, C. Ferguson, and S. Onevelo.

the Queen's finest

A Sodalist must be an exemplary Catholic. She must be sincere in her primary objective—to give glory to God. After a period of probation, she is allowed to make her temporary act of consecration. Later on, if she is faithful, she makes a permanent dedication of her whole life to God through the hands of Mary. It then becomes her honor and her privilege to spread abroad the good example of a life dedicated to the highest principles. Her title of "Child of Mary" she will carry with her into the next life.

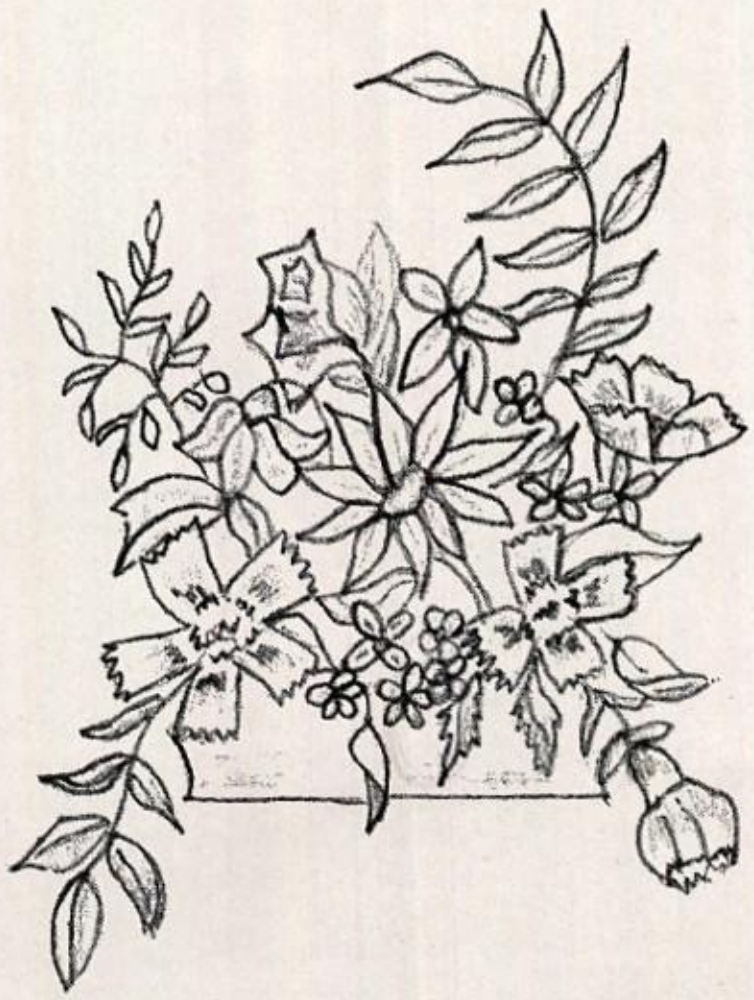


The Very Rev. James V. O'Neill, O.S.F.S., is greeted by P. Fitzgibbons and S. Morgat as he arrives to instruct the Sodalists.



TELL THEM, MARIE. During our annual Open House, a panel sponsored by the Student Council explains the value of co-curricular activities at Madonna.

Student Council

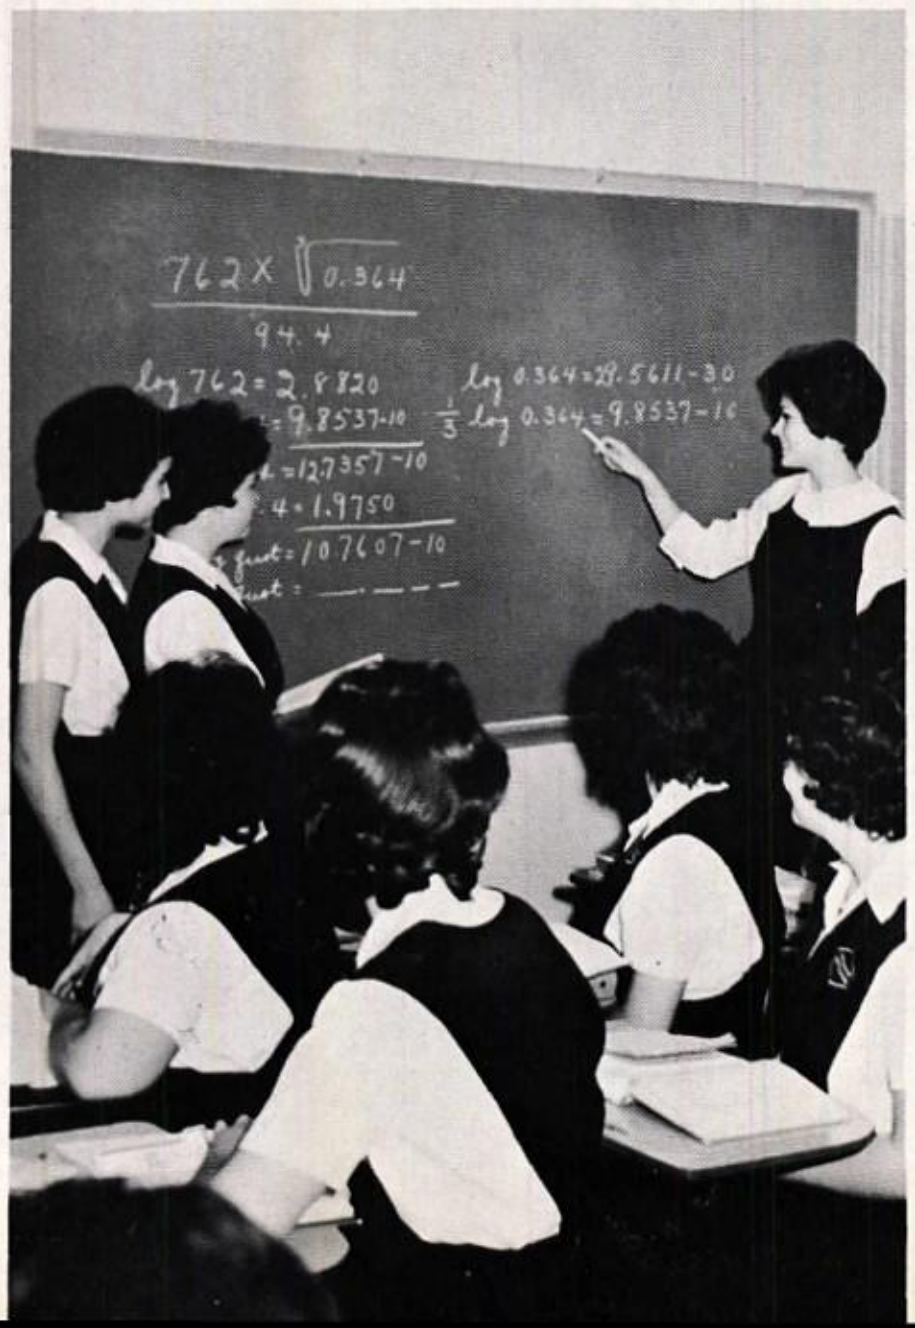


THERESA REPORTING. At the open Student Council meeting, our Business Club president relates the accomplishments of her organization.

Christmas smiles seem to be in vogue for Student Council President Joan Johnson; Barbara Kantanista, treasurer; Molly Shea, vice president, and Catherine Certo, secretary.

Sister M. Eloise has wise words of advice for student government principal P. McClincy and C. Wojton, vice principal.

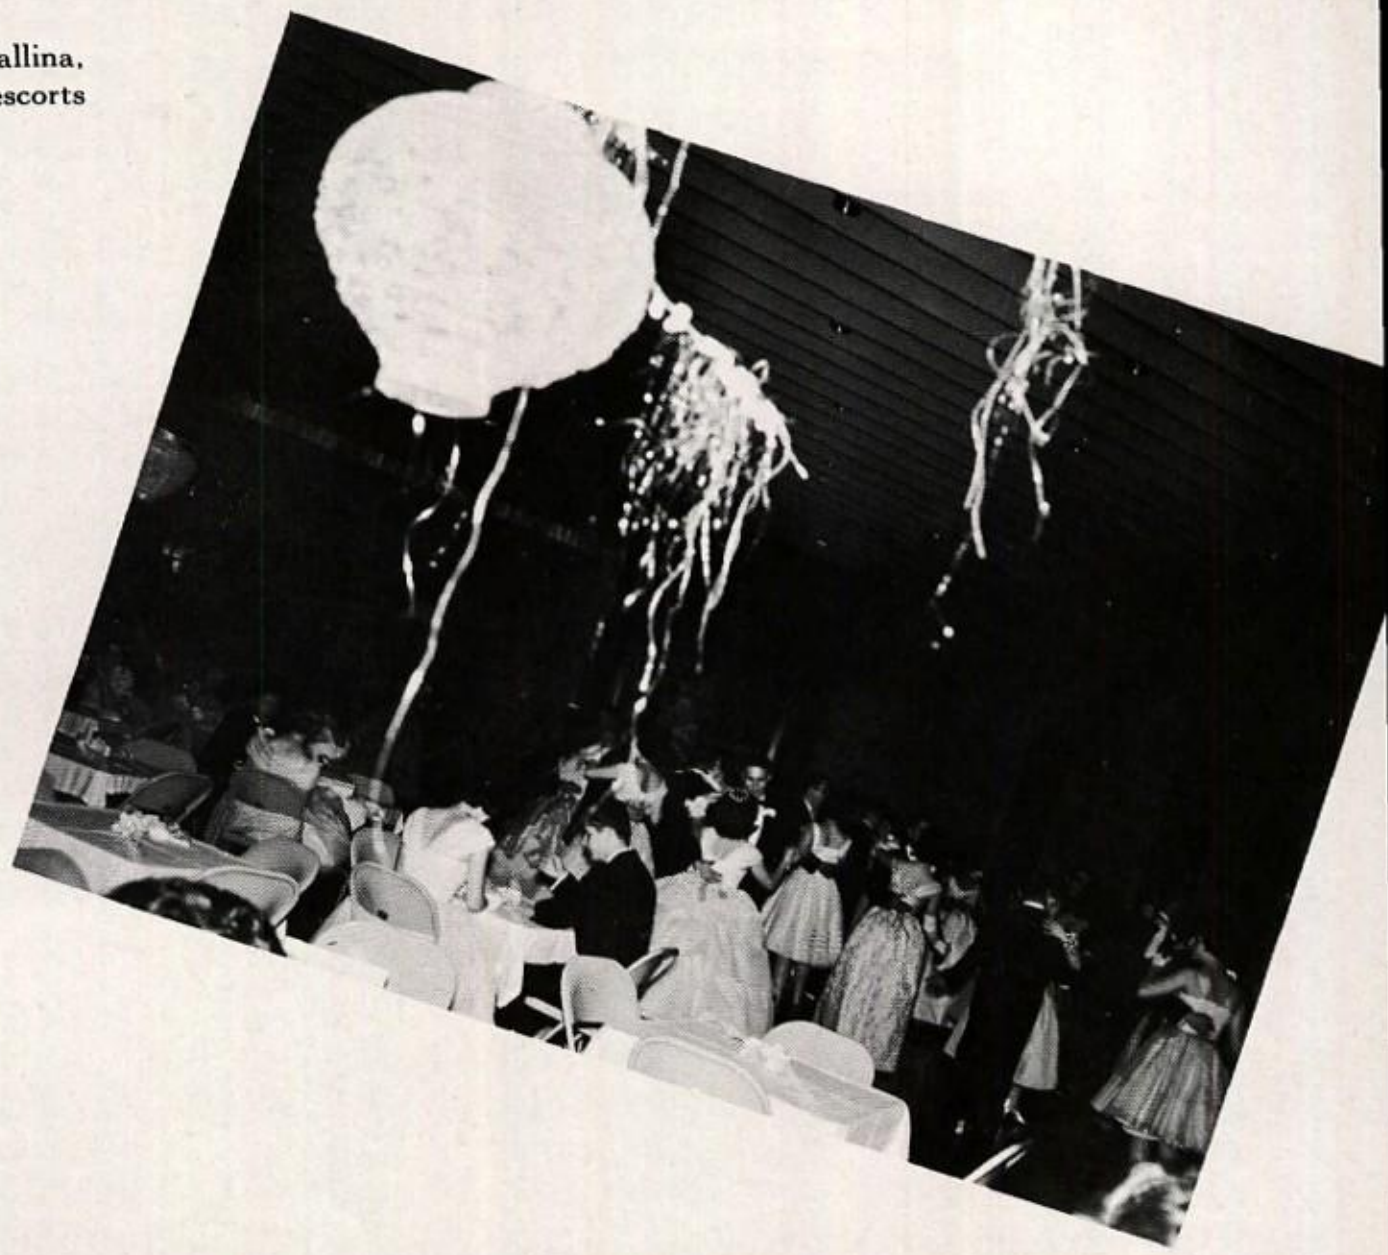
Parents and friends are waiting for M. Shea, J. Johnson, and G. Wozniak to start the open meeting.



Student Government Day finds M. Moran teaching the tricks of logarithms to E. Tavano and J. Erickson.

M. Zawislak, G. Wozniak, C. Gallina, L. Glennon, and J. Riggiero and escorts take time out from dancing.

An Evening in Shangri-La



C. Gallina crowns Our Lady at Madonna's Senior Prom as co-chairmen J. Gilligan and S. Onevelo and escorts lend their assistance at the evening's climax.

Service . . .

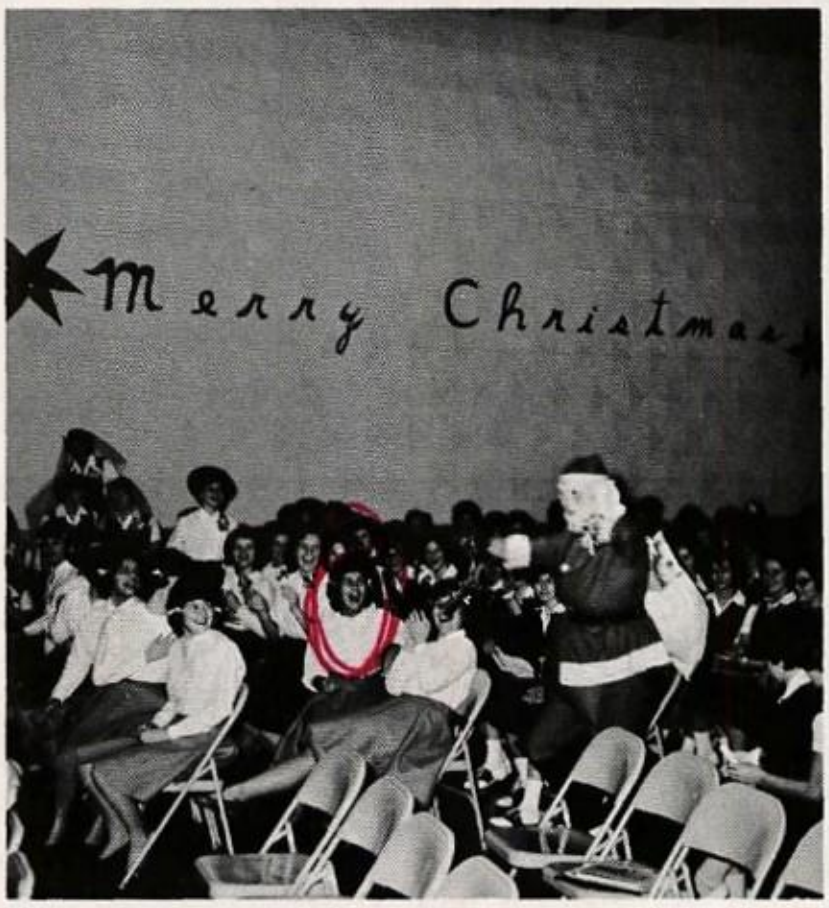
The Right Reverend Paschal J. Tronolone, assisted by Sister M. Eloise, our principal, receives the charter members into the Madonna Chapter of the National Honor Society. Membership in this society, which is based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service, is the highest honor that can come to a Madonna girl.

Our good friend, Mr. Dussault, shows off his clean saddle shoes to V. Dominick, C. Gallina, and K. Wilson.

Madonna girls make frequent visits to the chapel.

Mrs. Edith Pasche, Mrs. Katherine Orgulak, Mrs. Nancy Zaso, and Mrs. Eva Vanoni feed several hundred hungry girls each day.

Everyone is jovial because Santa Claus has come to town.



C. Kelly, C. Gugino, and L. Manerino are preparing Madonna's food baskets for the poor.

Senior Snaps

"Will she reach it?" C. Gugino and J. Bergeron assist S. Onevelo with Class Day decorations.

J. Gilligan captivates her audience as we are reminded of our treasured American heritage.

Class Day

The sweep of pastel dresses can be heard, creating a festive air as juniors and seniors arrive for Class Night. The long-awaited moment has finally come — a night for fun and friends, and yet one that holds a bit of sadness for the seniors. Class Night affords an opportunity for the juniors to honor the graduating class with a gala event dedicated to them, with the hope that bonds of friendship will always be as strong as on this memorable evening.

"Boy, are we hungry!" exclaims Monsignor Carey. Father Magee agrees that he is ready for the Class Day banquet.

Juniors and seniors forget calories tonight.

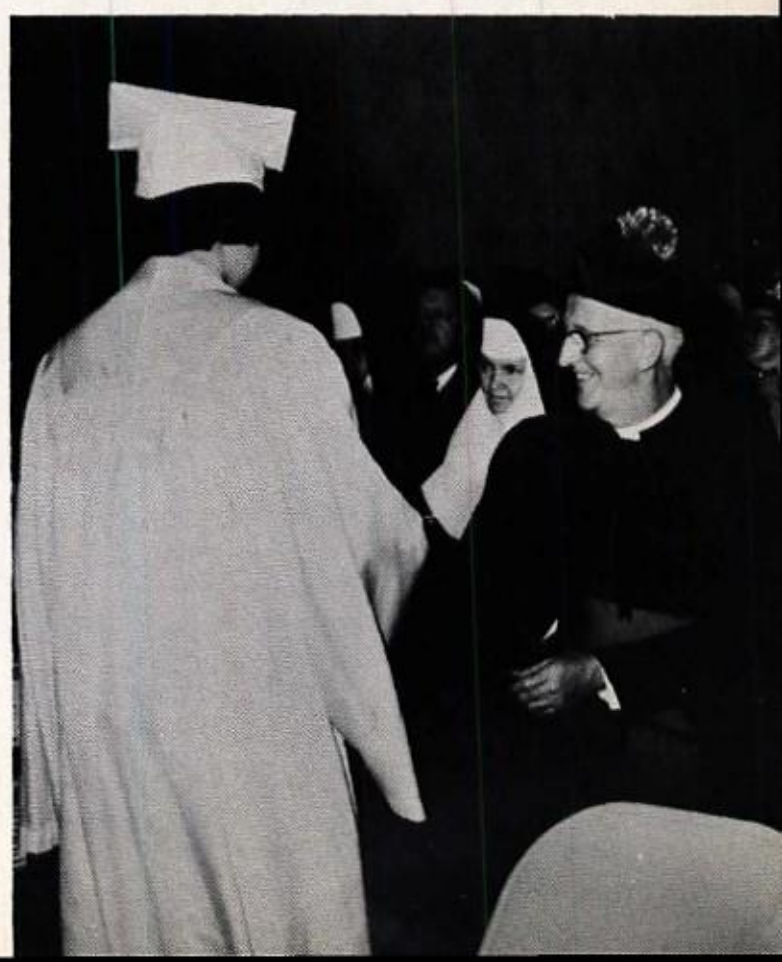
GOAL ACHIEVED. Graduation night at last!

Graduation

From early fall every senior dreams about graduation day. The seasons drift by so quickly; now it is summer and the stately white line of graduates starts down the aisle. Each one is a success in proportion as she has learned to love God and to develop the abilities which He has given her.

The Very Reverend William T. Grant distributes Holy Communion.

The Very Reverend John J. Carey awards a Madonna girl her diploma.



Proud parents, teachers, and relatives watch the entrance of the graduates.

Your Yearbook Is In Distinguished Company

Some of the Fine College and High School Yearbooks Produced by Baker, Jones, Hausauer, Inc.

IT'S ALWAYS WISE to "look" at the company they keep when selecting a yearbook publisher. That's one of the reasons your staff selected Baker, Jones, Hausauer to produce your yearbook. BJH is nationally recognized as an outstanding producer of yearbooks. We have earned this reputation in the development of a unique "package" program that puts all responsibility for art, engraving, printing, (by letterpress or offset) and binding in one place—this means your staff is freed from production details and so can spend more time on editorial creation. The fine yearbook in your hands shows how the "package plan" works to everyone's advantage.
